Course Guide for UO English Majors Participating in Winter 2013 London Program

Please note that these terms ONLY apply to the program at the London AHA Centre affiliated with the UO English department, ONLY during Winter 2013, and ONLY for UO English majors.

If you are graduating before Winter 2014, you must be sure to complete the second part of the Introduction to the Major sequence (English 221) beforehand. Please be aware that this course is only taught on the UO home campus in Eugene and only in Winter term. This may cause a conflict for some people interested in participating on the Winter in London program.

1. All courses (History, English, Art History and Theatre) can apply to the English major requirements. Each course can only apply to one major requirement.

ARH (Victorian Art and Architecture) can apply to the 1789-Present UD requirement or the UD Elective requirement.

HIST (Tudor England) can apply to the 1500-1789 UD requirement or the UD Elective requirement.

TA (London Theatre) can apply to the UD Elective requirement.

ENG (Beyond Downton Abbey: The Rich, the Poor and the Servants in British Literature) can apply to the 1789-Present UD requirement or the UD Elective requirement.

ENG (Celtic Myths and Legends) can apply to the pre-1500 UD requirement or the UD Elective requirement.

2. As long as one is enrolled in three courses for 15 units, English majors can fulfill an additional UD elective requirement for the major by enrolling in a 1-credit UD course with Prof. Bayless entitled “London Experience.” The course will be equivalent to an English 401 course and will only be available on a P/N basis. This course is meant to provide students an opportunity to reflect on their London experience and its place in their studies in the English major. The credit for this course combines with the 5 credits for each of the three other courses and, assuming completion of the three 5-credit courses, will yield a total of 16 units for the program. These 16 units can then be applied toward four English major upper-division requirements with the “additional” fulfilled requirement only applicable to the UD elective requirement. The 1-credit course is only open to English majors.
Please note, if you have already completed your two UD electives (or will by the end of Winter 2013 with other courses), the “London Experience” will not allow you to complete any additional English major requirements.

If you have any questions about the applicability of London in Winter courses to the English major, please contact Prof. Mark Quigley at mquigley@uoregon.edu
